SOCIETY WOMAN DONATES HER OLD HOME TO HOSPITAL FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Mrs. John W. Falls, long prominent in Mentphis social and Names Withheld.

The bone-dry law prohibits a person from having liquor in his possession, from transporting liquor from one place to another within the state and from delivering or receiving liquor from a common or other carrier from within or from without the state.

The city attorney's office did not delay the matter, but late Thursday filled a bunch of brand new injunction muits in the chancery court against alleged liquor dealers.

While the city authorities are reticent as to the new movement against the law volutors, it is whispered around that it has come to their knowledge that liquor is being sold in certain places in Memphis, and it is against these places and the persons conducting them that the injunction suits are being directed.

The names of the persons whom the city seeks to enjoin will not be made public until the papers shall have been served. These papers probably will be executed Friday. philanthropic circles, but now spending the greater portion of her time in New York, has done the most conspicuous piece of chariy of recent wears in Memphis. The handsome Falls home, on the corner of Jefferson avenue and Orleans street, has been given by her to be used for the benefit of the hospital for crippled children. Deeds to the property have just been recorded and hence the managers of the hospital have not decided upon the specific use to which the property will be put, but they are sincere and profuse in their thanks to Mrs. Falls for her noble

THINK FLOUR WILL BE CMEAPER IF BILL PASSES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Members of the house agriculture committee today expressed the opinion that the price of flour would be lowered and that the cost to consumers of other principal foodstuffs would decline, should congress pass the bill for carrying out the government wheat pake guaranty, approved last night by the committee.

The bill provides that while the government would carry out its promise to the farmers of $2.26 a bushel for the 1918 wheat crop, the price to the consumer would be fixed only by the law of supply and demand. The government would lose the difference between the purchase and sale price, and the bill proposes an appropriation of $1.000,000,000 for this purpose. The bill gives the president power to continue the food administration's grain corporation to carry out the guaranty or to create a new agency.

JOURNAL YEAR OLD.

The Chamber of Commerce Journal, printed under the direction of a board composed of E. D. Balley, chairman; Dr. Tait Butier, H. R. Chears and John A. Osoinacha editor, celebrates its first birthday with an attractive, February number. It is well patronized by the advertisers, and contains some interesting articles, especially one dealing with the carly history of Memphis, by J. H. Malone.
